DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-2, drawn to a method of making a pine cone extract and the pine extract produced thereby, classified in class 424, subclass 770, for example.
- II. Claims 3-12, drawn to a vaccine system consisting of a composition or kit comprising a vaccine or medicament, an adjuvant, and a pine cone extract, and a method of vaccination using the vaccine composition/system, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1, for example.
- III. Claims 13-16, drawn to a method of producing immature and/or mature dendritic and/or fibrocyte cells via exposition cells to a pine cone extract, classified in class 435, subclass 368, for example..

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I (product) and II-III (distinct processes) are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, as evidenced by the claims themselves, the pine cone extract of Group I can be used within a method of vaccination (Group II) or to produce dendritic and/or fibrocyte cells (Group III).

Art Unit: 1654

Further, the pine cone extract of Group I can be used alone (e.g., to produce dendritic and/or fibrocyte cells) and, thus, does not require the presence of a vaccine/medicament or an adjuvant - both of which are required of the vaccine system of Group II.

The methods of Groups II and III are directed to different inventions which are not connected in design, operation, or effect. These methods are independent since they are not disclosed as capable of use together, they have different modes of operation, they have different functions, and they have different effects. One would not have to practice the various methods at the same time to practice just one method alone.

The several inventions above are independent and distinct, each from the other. They have acquired a separate status in the art as a separate subject for inventive effect and require independent searches (as indicated by the different classification). The search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Further, a reference which would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious another group. Finally, the consideration for patentability is different in each case. Thus, it would be an undue burden to examine all of the above inventions in one application.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1654

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
